

MALAYSIAN RED CRESCENT SOCIETY

FIELD VISIT TO "BENGKEL DAYA KELANG"

BACKGROUND

- Women and men have different capacities, strengths, needs and vulnerabilities.
- Societal norms and expectations based on a person's gender and diversity can impact individual and community resilience.
- We need to ensure that all women, men, girls and boys, inclusive of age, disability, health status, social, religious or ethnic group live in and actively contribute to inclusive, safe and resilient communities before, during and after disasters.

BACKGROUND

- Need to ensure that G&D is mainstreamed and fully integrated in all our programming, plans, policies and tools.
- Together with external stakeholders.
- MRC & the Department of Welfare which is under the Ministry of Women, Family and Community Development.

MAIN OBJECTIVES OF VISIT

- Sharing of experiences on disability inclusion within the community.
- Increase awareness of the work of the Department of Welfare in the context of disaster risk reduction and emergency response.
- To speak with members of the community and understand their needs and benefits of the service on their daily lives.
- Encourage greater awareness so as to create greater collaboration.
