In 2012, total expenditure was just over 31.1 billion Swiss francs.

In 2012 alone, and more than half of them are helped by our development work.

The total number reached by disaster response and early recovery programming worldwide is more than 77 million people.

The total number reached by long-term and development programming worldwide is more than 77.2 million people.

In 2012, total income was more than 31.4 billion Swiss francs.

The total number reached by Red Cross Red Crescent disaster preparedness programming is more than 33.9 million people.

More than 160,000 branches/local units.

More than 415,000 paid staff.

Nearly 15.5 million volunteers contributing 4 hours or more a year.

In 2012 alone, and more than half of them are helped by our development work.

In 2012, total expenditure was just over 31.1 billion Swiss francs.

As of 12 November 2013.

Source: 2012 information provided through the Federation-Wide Databank and Reporting System (FDRS) as of 31 October 2013.