The Resilience House Model

Building Safer and More Resilient Communities in Southeast Asia

Disaster management

Health and care

Cross-Cutting Issues including:

- Climate change: Integrating climate change into health and disaster risk reduction programming
- Gender & diversity: Accounting for differences in gender, age, disability and cultural perspectives
- Disaster law: Strengthening resilience through the regulation of international disaster relief and risk reduction
- People on the move: Addressing the rights and needs of migrants, irrespective of their legal status
- Humanitarian diplomacy: Persuading decision-makers to act in the interests of the vulnerable, raising community voice

The foundation: Strong National Society development, Red Cross and Red Crescent youth networks, volunteer management, resource mobilization and communication with communities and decision-makers
