Information sharing on novel coronavirus (COVID-19)

MRCS's activities supported by the Red Cross & Red Crescent Movement partners in Myanmar

#COVID19 Red Cross voices from the field

"I have been a Red Cross volunteer for 37 years now in three different regions – Kayin, Mandalay, and Bago. This week I am in Yangon for a training of trainers (ToT) by Myanmar Red Cross Society on risk communication, community engagement, and psychosocial support. We did many group discussions and role plays to familiarize ourselves in COVID-19 related situations that can happen when we work with people in the communities. We also learned about how to deal with rumors. I am one of 9 women out of 29 volunteers who came from 9 states & regions throughout the country to attend this training. Once I am back home, I will train 300 Red Cross volunteers in Kayin state to become trainers themselves. I am happiest when I share my knowledge with others.”

Female Red Cross volunteers in #Myanmar at the forefront of #COVID19 activities

"We need more women to be upfront and share equal leadership with men. Everyone, especially women and children, can greatly benefit from female Red Cross and Red Crescent leaders who understand their needs."

Dr. Daw Amaya Maw Naing, Vice President, Myanmar Red Cross Society
Myanmar Red Cross Society (MRCS), in close coordination with the Ministry of Health and Sports (MoHS), has mobilized a large number of Red Cross volunteers to support the MoHS activities to prevent COVID-19. MRCS’s activities focus on awareness raising, information sharing, health education, risk communications, and psychosocial support at the community level. Additionally, MRCS has been supporting MoHS in screening people in migration entry & exit points as well as in community-based surveillance measures. MRCS also distributed sanitizers, as well as procured personal protective equipment to be well prepared for possible outbreak and its impact to its frontline health volunteers working in communities. MRCS continues to lead the Red Cross & Red Crescent Movement Task Force which convenes regularly to effectively and timely prepare for the fast-evolving situation. On 13 Feb 2020, MRCS launched the emergency plan of action (Required Amount: CHF 1,226,730) supported by the Movement partners.
